
Summer Universities in Vienna

we would like to draw your attention to the internationally unique Summer Universities: "Alternative Economic and Monetary Systems (AEMS)" and "Green.Building.Solutions. (GBS)" which will again take place in Vienna this year!

The programs are open to students and professionals, who want to deepen and/or gain new knowledge in the field of sustainability:

Alternative Economic and Monetary Systems (AEMS) – 14 July to 1 August 2025 | 5 ECTS

The interdisciplinary AEMS Summer University welcomes students and professionals from all fields and focuses on alternatives to the economic status quo. The program follows an interdisciplinary and holistic approach: International participants deal with limits to growth, as well as the instabilities of our financial system and learn why a drastic system change is necessary to stabilize the world climate – but most importantly: they discuss an array of alternative approaches, such as ethical banking, Circular Economy, the Economy for the Common Good, MMT, Degrowth and many more!

Green.Building.Solutions. (GBS) – 14 July – 2 August 2025 | 7 ECTS

GBS specializes on first-hand ecological knowledge and engineering expertise: The program deals with the ecological, economic, technical and social aspects of green building and construction. International participants deepen their knowledge in passive house planning, sustainable urban development, new energy technologies, innovative architecture and ecological design together with experts. A group design project aims to incorporate the gained knowledge. The program is open for students and professionals from fields related to the built environment, such as architecture, energy technology, urban planning etc.

Application deadline for scholarships: 30 April 2025

General application deadline: 30 June 2025

On 24 March 2025 at 14:00 CET, we will host an Online Info Session to clarify any open questions. Anyone interested in attending the programs this summer may join! Register for the info session here!

We look forward to receiving applications from all over the world and would highly appreciate if you share this information with your students, colleagues and friends!

Thank you and best wishes,
AEMS & GBS Team
